

Landscape scholarships
sixth edition call, 2020/2021

The deadline for submitting the applications is set to 31 August 2020

Press release
4 June 2020

Fondazione Benetton Studi Ricerche, within the framework of research activities on landscape and the care for places developed with its Scientific Committee, establishes on a yearly basis landscape study scholarships.

The sixth edition (2020/2021) envisages granting two six-monthly scholarships, for which it is requested to present a research project consistent with the themes developed by the Foundation in the field of landscape, in over thirty years of activity, with research, training, experimentation, communication and dissemination initiatives.

The proposed theme must also refer explicitly to one of the three thematic areas: Landscape project, Theories and policies for landscape; Nature and gardens, respectively named after Sven-Ingvar Andersson (1927-2007), Rosario Assunto (1915-1994) and Ippolito Pizzetti (1926-2007), key figures for the Foundation's scientific work since its inception.

Candidates must individually submit a single, original research project, which clearly shows the connections to the scientific work of the Foundation.

The deadline for submitting the applications is set without exception to Monday 31 August 2020, at 12 am.

The duration of the scholarship, residential and non extendable, is six months each.

The scholarship will take place from 15 January 2021 to 15 July 2021.

The value of the scholarships is set at Euro 10,000.00 (gross).

The scholarships are open to Italian and foreign graduates (master's degree/laurea magistrale) and postgraduates, under the age of 40 on 31 August 2020.

Research grant holders, or those who hold a public or private position, and carry out any work activity on an ongoing basis cannot apply.

The application form is available with the call at www.fbsr.it or at the Foundation's secretary's office (via Cornarotta 7, Treviso, open from Monday to Friday, 9:00am-1:00pm, 2:00pm-6:00pm).

The application with the various attachments must be sent by email to paesaggio@fbsr.it with subject line "Borse di studio sul paesaggio 2019/2020", or delivered to the Foundation's secretary's office with a different method by the same deadline.

The selection of scholarship holders shall be unappealable and shall be made by a commission specially set up by the Foundation, whose members come from its structure and its Scientific Committee.

The results shall be disclosed within 30 October 2020 by publication on the website www.fbsr.it and subsequently notified by e-mail to the successful candidates.
